Project Profile

Palladium was awarded a cooperative agreement to implement the USAID County Measurement, Learning and Accountability Program (CMLAP) in Kenya. The purpose of this activity is to support ongoing activities by the national and county governments and other development partners to strengthen outcome measurements, learning and accountability (MLA) systems in order to provide quality data and synthesized information for planning, implementation, policy development and decision making. This activity focus its support on the following HIV, malaria and Martenal Neonatal Child Health programs in Homabay, Migori, Kisii, Kakamega, Busia, Vihiga, Bungoma, Kisumu, Baringo, Nakuru, Turkana, Nakuru and Samburu.The Palladium led CMLAP team includes the Kenyan School of Government and Maseno University. Together we bring a deep knowledge of the country context—in particular, experience working on strengthening Leadership and Governance, M&E and HIS and analytics in devolved counties. We have a collective track record in governance, health M&E and data systems, ICT and analytics, data demand and use, and capacity building strategies at all levels of the health system. Team partners are currently working in the focus counties which favors continued technical assistance. Through our existing projects, the partners have established collaborative working relationships with local nongovernmental, community-based, and faith-based organizations (NGO/CBO/FBO) and the County Health

Management Teams (CHMTs) that will facilitate work planning and the achievement of project results.The project has two sub-purposes:

Increased leadership and management capacity of county governments for effective outcome MLA systems;

Increased availability, analysis and use of quality data

A 33-person team is to work in Kisumu and Nakuru to achieve the project results. The team is led by a Chief of Party also based in Kisumu. Palladium staff in Nairobi and our international offices will provide routine technical and administrative support and assistance.

Position Summary Under the leadership of the CMLAP Chief of party, the Deputy Chief of Party Technical will lead and oversee activities related to in Analytics and Data Use for the project and provide technical direction and guidance to the CMLAP team. Along with the COP, s/he will coordinate and collaborate with other donor-funded M&E/SI programs in Kenya. The DCOP will also work with the COP to develop and implement the project work plan and assure timely provision of high-quality deliverables and routine project reports. The DCOP is the secondary point of contact for the USAID Agreement Officer (AOR) and will serve as the acting COP when needed.

The DCOP will have direct supervision of the following positions:
